PLAINTIFFS' OMNIBUS MOTION TO LIFT DISCOVERY STAY AND FOR LEAVE TO CONDUCT JURISDICTIONAL DISCOVERY, AND, IF NECESSARY TO AMEND THEIR COMPLAINTS WITH ANY FACTS ARISING FROM SUCH DISCOVERY

Plaintiffs respectfully move the Court to enter an order: (1) lifting the stay of discovery imposed during the pendency of Sam Bankman-Fried's Trial, [ECF Nos. 318, 336]; (2) granting Plaintiffs leave to (a) take brief jurisdictional discovery from the following Defendants, prior to a ruling on Defendants' arguments to dismiss the actions against them for lack of personal jurisdiction or insufficient service of process: Steph Curry, Golden State Warriors LLC ("GSW"), Solomid Corporation ("TSM"), Naomi Osaka, Udonis Haslem, Lawrence Gene David, Andre Jikh, Jeremy LeFebvre, Graham Stephan, Jaspreet Singh, Erika Kullberg, Brian Jung, Creators Agency LLC ("CA"), SoftBank Group Corp., SoftBank Investment Advisers (UK) Limited, SoftBank Global Advisers Limited, Temasek Holdings (Private) Limited, Temasek International USA LLC, Sino Global Capital Holdings LLC, Farmington State Bank d/b/a Moonstone Bank ("Moonstone"), Deltec Bank and Trust Company Limited ("Deltec"), and Jean Chalopin; and (b) to file any amendments to the Administrative Complaints or oppositions to the pending motions within twenty (20) days after completing that brief jurisdictional discovery, so Plaintiffs may incorporate any additional facts that support personal jurisdiction over these Defendants and address arguments raised in all Defendants' motions to dismiss.

BACKGROUND

Since before this MDL was created, the Promoter Defendants' primary argument was that Florida courts had no jurisdiction over them because neither they nor FTX conducted any substantial business regarding FTX in this state.

¹ The "Promoter Defendants," for purposes of this Motion, are defined as Steph Curry, Golden State Warriors LLC ("GSW"), Solomid Corporation ("TSM"), Naomi Osaka, Udonis Haslem, Lawrence Gene David, Andre Jikh, Jeremy LeFebvre, Graham Stephan, Jaspreet Singh, Erika Kullberg, Brian Jung, and CA. The "Bank Defendants," for purposes of this Motion, are Moonstone, Deltec, and Jean Chalopin; the "VC Defendants" are SoftBank Group Corp., SoftBank Investment Advisers (UK) Limited, SoftBank Global Advisers Limited, Temasek Holdings (Private) Limited, Temasek International USA LLC, and Sino Global Capital Holdings LLC.

In Garrison v. Bankman-Fried, No. 1:22-cv-23753-KMM ("Garrison"), Plaintiffs filed a motion for leave to conduct jurisdictional discovery as to Defendants Curry, David, GSW, and Osaka, ² and Udonis Haslem, based on the same jurisdictional arguments they raise in their now-pending motion to dismiss. See Garrison, ECF No. 163, attached as Exhibit A. The Court denied that motion as moot when the Court granted the Garrison Plaintiffs leave to amend their complaint, [ECF No. 207] which included, among other materials, the Declaration of Dan Friedberg, where he explained that FTX's Vice President of Business Development, Avi Dabir, "operated from our Miami office, and he was focused on formulating and executing our important FTX celebrity partnerships." [ECF No. 205-1, ¶¶ 20–25].

The Garrison Plaintiffs maintained, however, that if "any FTX Defendant decides to renew any arguments, and/or raise additional arguments as to personal jurisdiction directed to that Amended Complaint, even in light of this new jurisdictional information, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that brief jurisdictional discovery (brief depositions and targeted discovery) may be necessary, consistent with the orders on discovery entered by Chief Judge Altonaga, Judge Altman, and Magistrate Judge Reid in the related Voyager Digital class actions pending before this Court." [ECF No. 202].

Also before this MDL, in Garrison v. Paffrath, No. 23-21023-CIV-ALTONAGA/Damian ("Paffrath"), Defendants Jikh, LeFebvre, Stephan, Singh, Kullberg, Jung, and CA also moved to dismiss on the same jurisdictional grounds they now raise here. After considering the Paffrath Parties' Joint Report on Discovery, Chief Judge Altonaga entered an Order, ulling "[t]he Court finds that jurisdictional discovery is appropriate; additional jurisdictional facts need not be alleged in Plaintiffs' pleading," and granted Plaintiffs leave to conduct jurisdictional discovery—written requests and depositions—against Defendants Jikh, LeFebvre, Stephan, Singh, Kullberg, Jung, and CA. Further, Chief Judge Altonaga stayed any and all briefing on motions to dismiss under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) pending completion of jurisdictional discovery and the filing of operative complaints and motions to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction and/or to transfer venue. Id.

Once this MDL was consolidated before this Court, however, these same Defendants renewed their claim that Plaintiffs are not entitled to jurisdictional discovery, ignoring that the Court already found these same allegations sufficient to trigger Plaintiffs' "qualified right to jurisdictional discovery." See Am. Civil Liberties, Union of Fla. v. City of Sarasota, 859 F.3d 1337, 1341 (11th Cir. 2017).

Shortly after Plaintiffs filed their Consolidated Amended Complaints, The Promoter Defendants, the Bank Defendants, and the Foreign VC Defendants all moved to dismiss the claims against them for lack of personal jurisdiction or for insufficient service of process.

Given that Sam Bankman-Fried's trial was imminent, the Court granted Mr. Bankman-Fried's and the Government's request to stay discovery in these proceedings pending the completion of Mr. Bankman-Fried's criminal trial. [ECF Nos. 318, 336]. The Court ruled, however, that Plaintiffs may seek to lift the stay and renew this request for jurisdictional discovery when Mr. Bankman-Fried's trial was over. [ECF No. 336].

On November 2, 2023, Mr. Bankman-Fried's trial concluded when the jury returned a verdict finding him guilty on all seven counts. Accordingly, Plaintiffs respectfully ask the Court at this stage to lift the stay and to grant Plaintiffs leave to conduct limited jurisdictional discovery, and to afford a very brief period (20 days) following that discovery to file any amendments to the Administrative Complaints or oppositions to the pending motions, especially because Courts routinely allow such amendments to cure pleading deficiencies in service of the general principle that "decisions on the merits are not to be avoided on the basis of 'mere technicalities.'" Castros v. Signal Fin. Co. LLC, 1:17-CV-21870-KMM, 2018 WL 1137099, at *1 (S.D. Fla. Feb. 4, 2018) (Moore, C.J.) (collecting cases).

I. LEGAL ARGUMENT

Florida's long-arm statute provides for both general and specific personal jurisdiction. The Court has general personal jurisdiction over a defendant who has been "engaged in substantial and not isolated activity within this state ... whether or not the claim arises from that activity." Fla. Stat. § 48.193(2). Specific jurisdiction exists for claims arising out of certain discrete acts of a defendant that occur in Florida, including "[c]omitting a tortious act within this state." Fla. Stat. § 48.193(1)(a)(2) (2022).

https://www.reuters.com/legal/ftx-founder-sam-bankman-fried-thought-rules-did-not-apply-him-prosecutor-says-2023-11-02/ (accessed November 3, 2023).

Granting Plaintiffs' request would comport with the "policy of the federal rules []to permit liberal amendment to facilitate determination of claims on the merits and to prevent litigation from becoming a technical exercise in the fine points of pleading," particularly where the proposed amendment would not violate any scheduling order in place and there is no "substantial reason" to deny the amendment, which "could include 'undue delay, bad faith or dilatory motive, repeated failure to cure deficiencies by amendments previously allowed, undue prejudice to the opposing party, and futility of the amendment[,]" none of which would apply since Plaintiffs would be providing their first substantive amendment to the complaint after, at a minimum, taking narrow discovery to address the jurisdictional arguments raised by some of the Defendants. Castros, 2018 WL 1137099, at *1 (citations omitted).

In the Paffrath complaint, Plaintiffs invoked both general and specific jurisdiction as the basis for personal jurisdiction over each of the FTX Defendants under the long arm statute by alleging:

11. FTX's fraudulent scheme was designed to take advantage of investors from across the globe, including specifically in Florida, who sought out what was represented to be a safe platform to make their investments in the burgeoning cryptocurrency industry. The scheme resulted in FTX investors collectively sustaining billions of dollars in damages.

33. This Court has personal jurisdiction against Defendants because they conduct substantial and not isolated business in Florida, and/or have otherwise intentionally availed themselves of the Florida consumer market through the promotion, marketing, and sale of FTX's YBAs in Florida — including to Plaintiffs in this case — which constitutes committing a tortious act within the state of Florida. Defendants have also marketed and participated and/or assisted in the sale of FTX's unregistered securities to consumers in Florida. Further, Defendants have engaged in a conspiracy in which some of the co-conspirators—including some who are Defendants in this action—committed overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy in the State of Florida. This purposeful availment renders the exercise of jurisdiction by this Court over Defendants permissible under traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

Paffrath, [ECF No. 1, at ¶¶ 11, 33]. Plaintiffs also alleged FTX's domestic US base of operations was Miami, Florida [id., ¶ 63] and was where FTX put the alleged fraudulent plan, involving Defendants, into effect [id., ¶ 43]. Judge Altonaga found these allegations sufficient to allow Plaintiffs to proceed to jurisdictional discovery. Id., ECF No. 96.

In Garrison, the Complaint's allegations in support of personal jurisdiction in Florida are reliant on FTX's domestic headquarters being based in Miami (ECF No. 205, ¶¶ 2–3, 7, 9, 23, 31, see also ECF No. 205-1), the defendants' understanding of the overall publicity campaign emanating from Florida (¶¶ 371, 382, 405–407, 414, 427, 434–438, 576–581, 603–611, 623, 651-54), the value of such campaign overall (ECF No. 205 ¶¶ 12, 219, 624–29), their own place in that campaign both in terms of the publicity that their investment in/affiliation with FTX would provide (¶¶ 6, 13, 219, 232, 365–399, 419–428, 560–567, 582–594, 631–642), participation with others located in Florida on matters relating to the publicity campaign (¶¶ 16, 231, 398, 424), and presence in Florida on related matters (Curry, see ¶¶ 372, 297, 408, and Osaka, see ¶¶ 556, 566–67).

For O'Keefe v. Sequoia Capital Operations, LLC, et al., O'Keefe v. Temasek Holdings (Private) Ltd., et al., Chernyavsky et al. v. Temasek Holdings (Private) Ltd., et al., and Cabo et al. v. Temasek Holdings (Private) Ltd. et al., the allegations in support of PJ in Florida are reliant on FTX's domestic headquarters being based in Florida (ECF No. 182, ¶ 9, 45, 121, 290), Defendants' understanding of the overall publicity campaign emanating from Florida (see ECF No. 182, ¶ 281-91, 302; ECF No. 182-1), the value of such campaign overall (ECF No. 182, ¶ 231, 233, 287–88; ECF No. 182-2, at pp. 2-3, 6), their own place in that campaign both in terms of the publicity that their investment in/affiliation with FTX would provide as well as the fact that their investment moneys were used to further such campaign (ECF No. 182, ¶ 304–05, 318, 344–49, 351, 388), participation on the Advisory Board (by Temasek) with others located in Florida and on matters relating to the publicity campaign and LedgerX (also Florida-based) (ECF No. 182, ¶ 36, 251, 262, 361–63, 372), and presence in Florida (Sino Global) on related matters (ECF No. 182, ¶ 35, 253, 264, 316–18)).

Plaintiffs have already located certain documents demonstrating that jurisdictional discovery would yield jurisdictionally relevant facts—namely, the underlying conspiracy's existence as well as contacts with the relevant jurisdictions.

For example, an email exchange between Paradigm and FTX used as an exhibit in the criminal trial shows that the VCs were indeed inquiring into the relationship between FTX and Alameda, the lack of corporate controls at both companies or groups of companies, the VCs' awareness of the value of their association with FTX, and that the VCs wanted only to bump FTX's value before getting it on the selling block and cashing out. See GX-320, attached as Exhibit E. Plaintiffs have a right to discovery into similar exchanges between FTX and Temasek and/or Sino Global to further prove up the existence of conspiracy jurisdiction.

Other exhibits from Sam Bankman-Fried's criminal trial confirm FTX's involvement in the Liquid Value fund in which Plaintiffs allege Sino Global and FTX were co general partners, which fund Plaintiffs further allege is representative of the quid pro quo arrangement existing between the entities—i.e., FTX's favor to Sino Global in return for Sino Global's agreement to invest in FTX and publicize the same. See GX-14B, an excerpt of which is attached as Exhibit F; see also ECF No. 182, ¶ 35 (alleging quid pro quo relationship involving Sino Global, FTX, and Liquid Value fund).

Although Sino Global's Matthew Graham denies any relevant Florida contacts in his declaration in support of the motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction, see ECF No. 300-1, a publicly available slide deck on the Liquid Value fund mentions that a "Sino Global Capital" team member was based in Miami, Florida. See Liquid Value Slide Deck, attached as Exhibit G, at p. 4. Sino Global further represented to regulators that its subsidiary maintained a "principal office and place of business" at 1111 Brickell Avenue, 10th Floor, Miami, Florida 33131 in relation to the Liquid Value fund. See Sino Global Capital Management LLC Form ADV, attached as Exhibit H, Sections 1 & 7.A.

Still other trial exhibits include additional details regarding which employees from the venture capitalist defendants were involved with the FTX investment, see GX-26, an excerpt of which is attached as Exhibit I; confirm meetings between Temasek employees that served on FTX's advisory board and FTX's SBF and Ramnik Arora that further suggest a blurring of the lines by Temasek between its numerous subsidiaries, see GX-286, attached as Exhibit J; and reveal that a large number of documents exist regarding the FTX advisory board on which Temasek employees sat and which monitored and advised on matters pertaining to the Miami publicity campaign and Miami-based LedgerX, LLC d/b/a FTX US Derivatives, an entity with a longtime base in Miami that likewise formed part of FTX's publicity campaign to appear as the safe, dependable, and legitimate place to trade crypto, see S-2003, attached as Exhibit K, at Attachment A-1, at GX-29 ("Advisory_Board_Update_20210818 (1)"), GX-68 ("Advisory Board-comments"); id. Attachment A-2, at GX-234 ("Advisory Board Meeting Materials-09/19/2022"), GX-235 ("FTX Advisory Board Meeting 09_19_2022.pdf (Attachment To Advisory Board Meeting Materials – 09/19/2022), GX-278 ("RE: Advisory Board Meeting tomorrow").

If the guilty pleas of Caroline Ellison, Nishad Singh, and Gary Wang along with the agreements that we know exist between FTX and these venture capitalists, but which such venture capitalists have kept secret to date, do not alone provide sufficient basis for conspiracy jurisdiction to warrant jurisdictional discovery, then certainly Plaintiffs many detailed allegations combined with the foregoing documents tending to support the same get Plaintiffs across the line.

With respect to Moonstone, Deltec, and Chalopin, certain documents have come to light since Plaintiffs filed their complaint further establishing that such banks' services were key to the success of the conspiracy. For example, the indictment of Ryan Salame speaks to the struggle that FTX faced in locating banks that would provide the services that it needed to thrive—that is, until Deltec and Moonstone stepped in. See Salame Indictment, attached as Exhibit L, at ¶5 ("When FTX was founded ... many U.S. banks were reluctant to do business with cryptocurrency companies, and those banks that were willing to open accounts for cryptocurrency companies had extensive customer due diligence and licensing requirements, with which FTX was not compliant." (emphasis added)).

Others show that Moonstone made certain misrepresentations to regulators in order to obtain the licenses that it needed to enable FTX to move depositors' funds offshore. Specifically, on August 17, 2023, just one week after Plaintiffs filed the Administrative Class Action Complaint, the Federal Reserve announced an enforcement action against Moonstone, because, upon information and belief, at Chalopin's direction, Moonstone did not inform the Federal Reserve, in applying for membership, that Moonstone intended "to pursue a strategy focused on digital banking services or digital assets" (i.e., banking FTX and Alameda), and Moonstone "improperly chang[ed] its business plan" to provide such services (i.e., to FTX and Alameda) without prior notification or approval from the Federal Reserve. See Turner Wright, "Federal Reserve issues enforcement action against FTX-linked US bank," Cointelegraph.com (Aug. 17, 2023), available https://cointelegraph.com/news/federal-reserve-issues-enforcement-action-against-ftx-linkedbank (last accessed Nov. 3, 2023) (summarizing the Federal Reserve's enforcement action and providing a link to the Federal Reserve's cease and desist order arising from same). Moonstone, Deltec, and Chalopin deny that Plaintiffs' allegations prove certain elements of their claims, including arguing that their routine banking services cannot constitute substantial assistance of any kind. Yet, these two documents alone prove the contrary. They likewise render even more plausible Plaintiffs' conspiracy allegations in support of conspiracy jurisdiction over these defendants in Florida.

None of the Defendants deny any of the Complaint's material allegations that FTX marketed its products to investors in, and from Florida through the use of paid celebrity endorsements (many millions of dollars), or that FTX paid Defendants many millions of dollars to promote FTX's YBA's to millions of investors worldwide, including in Florida. Instead, the Defendants' jurisdictional declarations—exactly like the ones provided by Messrs. Cuban and Ehrlich in the Voyager cases—contain only general assertions regarding where the Defendants live and where they physically negotiated and signed their individual contracts with FTX.

Further, for purposes of specific jurisdiction under Florida's long arm statute, the issue is whether Defendants' tortious acts caused injury in Florida. See Louis Vuitton Malleties, S.A. v. Mosseri, 736 F.3d 1339, 1354 (11th Cir. 2013) ("[W]e conclude that under Florida law where Mosseri created the websites and posted the alleged infringing material does not matter. For purposes of § 48.193(1)(a)(2), the issue is whether Mosseri's tortious acts caused injury in Florida."). Defendants' general denials of contacts with Florida do not address whether these Defendants nevertheless committed a tortious act within Florida by knowingly and purposely promoting FTX's products and services to Florida residents who purchased those products and services based on Defendants' promotional activities, even if conducted outside of Florida. See Licciardo v. Lovelady, 544 F.3d 1280, 1283 (11th Cir. 2008) (holding that, under Florida law, a nonresident defendant commits "a tortious act within [Florida]" when he commits an act outside the state that causes injury within Florida).

The law of this Circuit has long recognized a qualified right to jurisdictional discovery. See Am. Civil Liberties, Union of Fla., 859 F.3d at 1341. The qualified right is afforded when (1) the movant timely moves for jurisdictional discovery and (2) the information the movant seeks, if it exists, would give rise to jurisdiction. See Posner v. Essex Ins. Co., Ltd., 178 F.3d 1209, 1214 n.7 (11th Cir. 1999) (distinguishing cases referring to qualified right of jurisdictional discovery because in Posner, plaintiff failed to make discovery requests in the eight months between the time the complaint was filed and the time it was dismissed) (citing Eaton v. Dorchester Dev., Inc., 692

F.2d 727, 729-31 (11th Cir. 1982); Gleneagle Ship Mgmt. Co. v. Leondakos, 602 So.2d 1282, 1284 (Fla. 1992)); see also RMS Titanic, Inc. v. Kingsmen Creatives, Ltd., 579 F. App'x 779, 790 (11th Cir. 2014) ("Our case law suggests that federal courts should order limited jurisdictional discovery where the information plaintiff seeks, if it exists, would give rise to jurisdiction.).

Thus, courts in this circuit routinely permit limited jurisdictional discovery before ruling on a jurisdictional motion to dismiss. See Happy Tax Franchising, LLC v. Hill, Case No. 19-24539-CIV, 2020 WL 13221241, *1 (S.D. Fla. Jun 24, 2020) (granting leave to conduct jurisdictional discovery prior to deciding motion to dismiss); Kilma v. Carnival Corp., 2008 WL 4559231, at *1 (S.D. Fla. Oct. 10, 2008) (permitting jurisdictional discovery prior to ruling on a motion to dismiss) (Moore, J.); Sierra Equity Group, Inc. v. White Oak Equity Partners, LLC, 2008 WL. 1771857, *2 (S.D. Fla. Apr. 15, 2008) ("[J]urisdictional discovery will be useful to determine the actual extent of Defendants' contacts with Florida to determine whether this case can be resolved on its merits. Without factual discovery, the Court would be left to conjecture whether it could exercise jurisdiction over Defendants."); Eaton, 692 F.2d at 729 (holding it was premature to dismiss a claim for lack of jurisdiction where plaintiffs were not given an opportunity to elicit material through discovery to support a determination on jurisdiction); Blanco Lines, 632 F.2d at 657 (reversing a dismissal on jurisdictional grounds because "Plaintiff is not required to rely exclusively upon a defendant's affidavit for resolution of the jurisdictional issue" where the dismissal was entered before Plaintiff had an adequate opportunity to take jurisdictional discovery).

Here, limited jurisdictional discovery – consisting of the requests for production of documents, interrogatories, and a single deposition of each of the thirteen Defendants who are challenging jurisdiction, see Composite Exhibit D – may reveal relevant facts, including, among other things:

- 1. Whether Defendants otherwise are engaged in substantial and not isolated activity targeting or taking place in Florida which may subject them to general jurisdiction in Florida;
- 2. Whether other agreements exist between Defendants and FTX under which Defendants agreed to target actions or submit to jurisdiction in Florida;
- 3. Whether Defendants have generated sales or revenue from advertising and marketing in Florida and/or to Florida consumers;
 - 4. Whether Defendants are authorized to do business or conduct business in Florida;
- 5. Whether Defendants operate in the United States or sought financial investments or financing in the United States;
 - 6. Whether Defendants maintain accounts with Florida based financial institutions;
 - 7. Whether Defendants' board of directors or employees reside in Florida;
- 8. Whether there are any other relevant contacts between Defendants and FTX that may be sufficient to establish general or specific jurisdiction under the long-arm statute.
- 9. Whether Defendants contracted to target their advertising or marketing efforts for FTX's services and products to the state of Florida in a manner that may subject them to specific jurisdiction in Florida.

Plaintiffs should have the opportunity to at least conduct jurisdictional discovery before the Court rules on Defendants' jurisdictional arguments. Plaintiffs' request is timely and appropriate considering Defendants' jurisdictional arguments. See, e.g., Happy Tax Franchising, 2020 WL 13221241 at *1 ("The qualified right [to jurisdictional discovery] is afforded when 1) the movant timely moves for jurisdictional discovery and 2) the information the movant seeks if it exists, would give rise to jurisdiction.").

CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs very respectfully request that the Court grant this Motion and enter an order granting leave for Plaintiffs to: (1) lift the stay of discovery in these proceedings now that Sam Bankman-Fried's trial has concluded; (2) conduct limited jurisdictional discovery in the manner described above within sixty (60) days of the Court's order on this Motion; and (3) to file any amendments to the Administrative Complaints or oppositions to the pending motions within twenty (20) days after completing that brief jurisdictional discovery. Any of the FTX Defendants can still raise any and all specific objections (undue burden, etc.) to the discovery that is served, which the Court can decide.

Exhibit A

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF FLORIDA MIAMI DIVISION

CASE NO. 1:22-cv-23753-KMM

EDWIN GARRISON, et al., on behalf of Themselves and all others similarly situated,
Plaintiffs,
v.
SAM BANKMAN-FRIED, et al.,
Defendants.

PLAINTIFFS' EXPEDITED MOTION FOR LEAVE TO CONDUCT JURISDICTIONAL DISCOVERY, AND TO AMEND THEIR COMPLAINT WITH ANY FACTS ARISING FROM SUCH DISCOVERY

Plaintiffs, pursuant to Local Rule 7.1(d)(2), respectfully move the Court to enter an order granting Plaintiffs leave to: (1) take brief jurisdictional discovery from Defendants, Stephen Curry, Larry David, Golden State Warriors, LLC, Shohei Ohtani, and Naomi Osaka (collectively, "FTX Non-Florida Defendants") prior to a ruling on Defendants' jurisdictional arguments; and (2) to file their first substantive amendment to the Complaint within twenty (20) days after completing that brief jurisdictional discovery, so Plaintiffs' may incorporate any additional facts that support personal jurisdiction over these FTX Non-Florida Defendants and address arguments raised in all Defendants' motions to dismiss.

This is the same, exact reasonable discovery that was opposed by defendants in Undersigned Counsel's related Voyager Digital cases, and required to be produced by Chief Judge Altonaga, Judge Altman, and Magistrate Judge Reid, in various Orders based specifically on Eleventh Circuit precedent, in the pending related Voyager Digital class actions. See Composite Exhibit A. All FTX Defendants continue to argue and reiterate that none of these prior Orders by this Court are in "in any manner" relevant to this inquiry, and cannot even be "considered by this Court," but they are in fact based upon extremely analogous facts. For example, Voyager and Mr. Cuban specifically argued the cases against them should be dismissed for a lack of personal jurisdiction, alleging they had "no connection to Florida." However, the plethora of evidence that was obtained in discovery demonstrated that not only was Florida one of the "main" targets for their promotion of Voyager's unregistered securities, but it was also one of the most targeted states, and thus tens of thousands of Florida residents, in fact, suffered millions in damages from defendants' offer and sale of these unregistered securities. Here, there is no dispute that FTX (unlike Voyager) conducted its activities from its headquarters here in Miami, Florida, and there can be no dispute that these Defendants' activities were certainly not confined to some limited geographic area.

All 18 FTX Defendants have, as of today, now definitively informed Plaintiffs that: (1) they have unilaterally decided not to respond to any discovery that Plaintiffs would serve following the initial Scheduling Conference, pending the Court's ruling on their Motions to Dismiss (jurisdictional and/or merits) (while Judge Altman denied a very similar Motion to Stay All Discovery in the related Voyager litigation, See Comp. Ex. A); and (2) they request the Court rely upon their newly filed, Sworn FTX Defendant Declarations, where they make new arguments to support an alleged lack of personal jurisdiction (such as they were not just "physically present" in Florida), but will not allow Plaintiffs to test any such arguments, as was specifically ordered in the Voyager cases also pending before this Court.

Plaintiffs diligently worked to confer with Defendants on these issues immediately after they filed their motions, but Defendants as a group were only available for a meet and confer on April 24, 2023, and a follow-up today, April 26, 2023, before they made clear this issue required

Court intervention. Plaintiffs' responses to the pending Motions to Dismiss are currently due Monday, May 15, 2023; therefore, absent an expedited ruling before that date, this matter will likely not be fully briefed and decided under the rules until after that current deadline.

I. BACKGROUND

This Court has acknowledged that all of these related FTX cases involve a main question of whether FTX's offerings are securities that need to be registered by the SEC. See Norris, et al. v. Brady, et al., No. 1:23-cv-20439-KMM ("Norris"), ECF Nos. 43, 45. If the Court decides that question in the affirmative, the only remaining question will be whether these FTX Defendants "aided and abetted" in the offer and sale of such unregistered securities under Florida law.

The FTX Non-Florida Defendants moved on Friday, April 14, 2023, to dismiss the complaint for lack of personal jurisdiction. ECF No. 139. Relying on newly filed declarations of Defendants Stephen Curry, Larry David, and Shohei Ohtani, these FTX Defendants argue that the entire case against them should be dismissed, because this Court lacks specific jurisdiction over them. But the declarations contain only general assertions regarding where the declarants live and where they negotiated and signed their individual contracts. As demonstrated by the FTX Contracts produced in Norris by Brady, Ortiz, and O'Leary in support of their opposition to the motion to remand, these contracts are all varied in their requirements, with some requiring FTX Brand Ambassadors to create and publish numerous "social media posts," autograph a certain number of items per year, launch NFTs across the country through FTX, conduct virtual meetings and lunches, host FTX charity events, etc.

While Defendants assert that certain information must be filed under seal (and thus Plaintiffs will not be attaching them hereto or providing specifics), the few materials which were provided in the related Norris action were also produced in redacted form, some with complete paragraphs redacted (without any table or index to provide context) as well as all of the details regarding their compensation. All of this information was compelled by this Court in the related Voyager cases. See Comp. Ex. A. Plaintiffs have requested, but have been denied, any fully unredacted copies of these relevant materials. Further, Defendants attempt to handicap Plaintiffs in their efforts to address these specific questions. For example, Mr. David alludes in his declaration to an "FTX Restricted Stock Purchase Agreement," which he references generally, but refuses to produce in this litigation. See ECF No. 139-2, at n.1.

Some of these FTX Contracts specifically require the Defendants to collaborate with the FTX advertising company on these scripts (i.e., such as the fraudulent FTX "I am All In" Campaign), via phone and emails, and preclude these celebrities from promoting any FTX competitors, in any manner. At a minimum, Defendants' declarations (just like those provided in Voyager) inject issues that cannot be resolved by the Court, or adequately addressed by Plaintiffs, absent some limited jurisdictional discovery and supplemental briefing and/or amended pleadings before the Court rules on Defendants' jurisdictional arguments.

Plaintiffs have been attempting for weeks to confer with Defendants on discovery. In response, Defendants have largely either ignored the requests or have indicated that they all need "proposed dates and times a week in advance (at minimum)" before they can schedule any time to confer with Plaintiffs.² After reviewing Defendants' Motions to Dismiss, Plaintiffs requested a meet and confer to discuss discovery in connection with the motions to dismiss. Plaintiffs also sent proposed jurisdictional discovery (requests for production and deposition notices) to Defendants to demonstrate how narrow the discovery sought was and to expedite the meet and confer process. See Composite Exhibit B (proposed jurisdictional discovery requests). After two meet and confer sessions, Defendants have now made it clear they will oppose Plaintiffs' request for any jurisdictional discovery (no matter how narrow) and instead have sought to stay all discovery. Defendants take this position despite the fact that in two related cases against Voyager Digital and the celebrities alleged to have promoted the offer and sale of unregistered securities, Judge Altonaga, Judge Altman, and Magistrate Judge Reid all granted leave and allowed discovery on personal jurisdiction to proceed based on very similar declarations filed by defendants in support of their motions to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction, raising many of the same arguments as Defendants here. See Comp. Ex. A.

Notably, Plaintiffs' current Complaint has not gone through any substantive amendment, and certainly not one after the filing of a Motion to Dismiss or after any discovery has been produced, in that the amended complaint was filed December 16, 2023, to effect the consolidation of the Garrison and Podalsky actions in accordance with this Court's Order. Defendant O'Neal, the last of the 18 Defendants was finally personally served April 16, 2023—10 days ago, within the deadline to do so set by this Court. No scheduling conference has yet been held, nor is there a case scheduling order. Indeed, the Court set a deadline of May 8, 2023, for the Parties to file a joint scheduling report after holding a scheduling conference once Defendant O'Neal was finally located and personally served.³

In the Voyager Digital cases, this Court denied defendants' motion to stay all discovery, in part, because there was no showing, by declaration nor any evidence, that such requested discovery was unduly burdensome. See Comp. Ex. A. In fact, all of that discovery was already taken in those cases and is now completed. Certainly, none of these 18 FTX Defendants have made any showing of "undue burden," in fact, they argue just the opposite, that very little responsive discovery (if any) should exist, conceding there is no burden.

Plaintiffs respectfully ask the Court at this stage for leave to conduct limited jurisdictional discovery, and to afford a very brief period (20 days) following that discovery to allow them to file their first amended complaint with substantive amendments, especially because "Courts routinely allow such amendments to cure pleading deficiencies in service of the general principle that "decisions on the merits are not to be avoided on the basis of 'mere technicalities.'" Castros v. Signal Fin. Co. LLC, 1:17-CV-21870-KMM, 2018 WL 1137099, at *1 (S.D. Fla. Feb. 4, 2018) (Moore, C.J.) (collecting cases).⁴

³ The Parties have agreed to hold the Joint Conference this Friday, April 28, 2023.

⁴ Granting Plaintiffs' request would comport with the "policy of the federal rules []to permit liberal amendment to facilitate determination of claims on the merits and to prevent litigation from becoming a technical exercise in the fine points of pleading," particularly where the proposed amendment would not violate any scheduling order in place and there is no "substantial reason" to deny the amendment, which "could include 'undue delay, bad faith or dilatory motive, repeated failure to cure deficiencies by amendments previously allowed, undue prejudice to the opposing party, and futility of the amendment[,]" none of which would apply since Plaintiffs would be providing their first substantive amendment to the complaint after, at a minimum, taking narrow discovery to address the jurisdictional arguments raised by some of the Defendants. Castros, 2018 WL 1137099, at *1 (citations omitted).

II. LEGAL ARGUMENT

Florida's long-arm statute provides for both general and specific personal jurisdiction. The Court has general personal jurisdiction over a defendant who has been "engaged in substantial and not isolated activity within this state ... whether or not the claim arises from that activity." Fla. Stat. § 48.193(2). Specific jurisdiction exists for claims arising out of certain discrete acts of a defendant that occur in Florida, including "[c]omitting a tortious act within this state." Fla. Stat. § 48.193(1)(a)(2) (2022).

In their complaint, Plaintiffs have invoked both general and specific jurisdiction as the basis for personal jurisdiction over each of the FTX Defendants under the long arm statute by alleging:

This Court has personal jurisdiction against Defendants because they conduct substantial and not isolated business in Florida, and/or have otherwise intentionally availed themselves of the Florida consumer market through the promotion, marketing, and sale of FTX's YBAs in Florida, which constitutes committing a tortious act within the state of Florida. Defendants have also marketed and participated and/or assisted in the sale of FTX's unregistered securities to consumers in Florida. Further, Defendants have engaged in a conspiracy in which some of the co-conspirators—including some who are Defendants in this action—committed overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy in the State of Florida. This purposeful availment renders the exercise of jurisdiction by this Court over Defendants permissible under traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

[ECF No. 16, at ¶ 50]. The Complaint also alleges that "FTX organized and emanated its fraudulent plan from its worldwide headquarters located here in Miami, Florida[,]" [ECF No. 16, at ¶ 8], that FTX promoted the sale of unregistered securities in Florida by using celebrity endorsers, including the Defendants, [ECF No. 16, at ¶ 16], and that FTX paid celebrity endorsers millions of dollars to use the positive reputation associated with specific celebrities to convince consumers that FTX was a safe place to buy and sell cryptocurrency. [ECF No. 16, at ¶¶ 193, 194].

None of the Defendants deny any of the Complaint's material allegations that FTX marketed its products to investors in, and from Florida through the use of paid celebrity endorsements (many millions of dollars), or that FTX paid Defendants many millions of dollars to promote FTX's YBA's to millions of investors worldwide, including in Florida. Instead, the Defendants' jurisdictional declarations—exactly like the ones provided by Messrs. Cuban and Ehrlich in the Voyager cases—contain only general assertions regarding where the Defendants live and where they physically negotiated and signed their individual contracts with FTX.

More importantly, none of the FTX Non-Florida Defendants challenging jurisdiction have

even attached copies of their FTX Agreements to which they repeatedly allude in their respective newly sworn declarations.⁵

Further, for purposes of specific jurisdiction under Florida's long arm statute, the issue is whether Defendants' tortious acts caused injury in Florida. See Louis Vuitton Malleties, S.A. v. Mosseri, 736 F.3d 1339, 1354 (11th Cir. 2013) ("[W]e conclude that under Florida law where Mosseri created the websites and posted the alleged infringing material does not matter. For purposes of § 48.193(1)(a)(2), the issue is whether Mosseri's tortious acts caused injury in Florida."). Defendants' general denials of contacts with Florida do not address whether these Defendants nevertheless committed a tortious act within Florida by knowingly and purposely promoting FTX's products and services to Florida residents who purchased those products and services based on Defendants' promotional activities, even if conducted outside of Florida. See Licciardo v. Lovelady, 544 F.3d 1280, 1283 (11th Cir. 2008) (holding that, under Florida law, a nonresident defendant commits "a tortious act within [Florida]" when he commits an act outside the state that causes injury within Florida).

The law of this Circuit has long recognized a qualified right to jurisdictional discovery. See Am. Civil Liberties, Union of Fla. v. City of Sarasota, 859 F.3d 1337, 1341 (11th Cir. 2017). The qualified right is afforded when (1) the movant timely moves for jurisdictional discovery and (2) the information the movant seeks, if it exists, would give rise to jurisdiction. See Posner v. Essex Ins. Co., Ltd., 178 F.3d 1209, 1214 n.7 (11th Cir. 1999) (distinguishing cases referring to qualified right of jurisdictional discovery because in Posner, plaintiff failed to make discovery requests in the eight months between the time the complaint was filed and the time it was dismissed) (citing Eaton v. Dorchester Dev., Inc., 692 F.2d 727, 729-31 (11th Cir. 1982); Gleneagle Ship Mgmt. Co. v. Leondakos, 602 So.2d 1282, 1284 (Fla. 1992)); see also RMS Titanic, Inc. v. Kingsmen Creatives, Ltd., 579 F. App'x 779, 790 (11th Cir. 2014) ("Our case law suggests that federal courts should order limited jurisdictional discovery where the information plaintiff seeks, if it exists, would give rise to jurisdiction.).

Thus, courts in this circuit routinely permit limited jurisdictional discovery before ruling on a jurisdictional motion to dismiss. See Happy Tax Franchising, LLC v. Hill, Case No. 19-24539-CIV, 2020 WL 13221241, *1 (S.D. Fla. Jun 24, 2020) (granting leave to conduct jurisdictional discovery prior to deciding motion to dismiss); Kilma v. Carnival Corp., 2008 WL 4559231, at *1 (S.D. Fla. Oct. 10, 2008) (permitting jurisdictional discovery prior to ruling on a motion to dismiss) (Moore, J.); Sierra Equity Group, Inc. v. White Oak Equity Partners, LLC, 2008 WL. 1771857, *2 (S.D. Fla. Apr. 15, 2008) ("[J]urisdictional discovery will be useful to determine the actual extent of Defendants' contacts with Florida to determine whether this case can be resolved on its merits. Without factual discovery, the Court would be left to conjecture whether it could exercise jurisdiction over Defendants."); Eaton, 692 F.2d at 729 (holding it was premature to dismiss a claim for lack of jurisdiction where plaintiffs were not given an opportunity to elicit material through discovery to support a determination on jurisdiction); Blanco Lines, 632 F.2d at 657 (reversing a dismissal on jurisdictional grounds because "Plaintiff is not required to rely exclusively upon a defendant's affidavit for resolution of the jurisdictional issue" where the dismissal was entered before Plaintiff had an adequate opportunity to take jurisdictional discovery).

Here, limited jurisdictional discovery – consisting of the requests for production of documents and a single deposition of each of the five Defendants who is challenging jurisdiction, see Comp. Ex. B – may reveal relevant facts, including, among other things:

- 1. Whether Defendants otherwise are engaged in substantial and not isolated activity targeting Florida which may subject them to general jurisdiction in Florida;
- 2. Whether other agreements exist between Defendants and FTX under which Defendants agreed to target actions or submit to jurisdiction in Florida;
- 3. Whether there are any other relevant contacts between Defendants and FTX that may be sufficient to establish general or specific jurisdiction under the long-arm statute.
- 4. Whether Defendants contracted to target their advertising or marketing efforts for FTX's services and products to the state of Florida in a manner that may subject them to specific jurisdiction in Florida.

Plaintiffs should have the opportunity to at least conduct jurisdictional discovery before the Court rules on Defendants' jurisdictional arguments. Plaintiffs' request is timely and appropriate considering Defendants' jurisdictional arguments. See, e.g., Happy Tax Franchising, 2020 WL 13221241 at *1 ("The qualified right [to jurisdictional discovery] is afforded when 1)

the movant timely moves for jurisdictional discovery and 2) the information the movant seeks if it exists, would give rise to jurisdiction.").

III. CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs very respectfully request that the Court grant this Expedited Motion and enter an order granting leave for Plaintiffs to: (1) conduct limited jurisdictional discovery in the manner described above within forty-five (45) days of the Court's order on this Motion; and (2) file an amended complaint with any additional facts revealed by such additional discovery that establish personal jurisdiction over the Defendants within 20 days after the close of such jurisdictional discovery. Any of the FTX Defendants can still raise any and all specific objections (undue burden, etc.) to the discovery that is served, which the Court can decide.

v.

VOYAGER DIGITAL LTD., et al.,

Defendants.

THIS CAUSE came before the Court on Defendants, Voyager Digital Ltd.'s ("Voyager Ltd.") and Voyager Digital, LLC's Expedited Motion to Stay Discovery Pending Resolution of Defendants' Motion to Compel Arbitration and to Dismiss the Complaint [ECF No. 29], filed on February 17, 2022. The Court issued an Order [ECF No. 30] requiring expedited briefing. Plaintiff, Mark Cassidy, filed a Response [ECF No. 33], to which Defendants filed their Reply [ECF No. 34]. For the following reasons, the Motion is denied.

Standard. A district court "has broad discretion to stay discovery pending decision on a dispositive motion." Panola Land Buyers Ass'n v. Shuman, 762 F.2d 1550, 1560 (11th Cir. 1985) (citations omitted). "Motions to stay discovery 'are not favored because when discovery is delayed or prolonged it can create case management problems which impede the Court's responsibility to expedite discovery and cause unnecessary litigation expenses and problems." Randy Rosenberg, D.C., P.A. v. GEICO Gen. Ins. Co., No. 19-cv-61422, 2019 WL 6052408, at *1 (S.D. Fla. Nov. 15, 2019) (quoting Feldman v. Flood, 176 F.R.D. 651, 652 (M.D. Fla. 1997)). In determining whether to stay discovery, courts must take a "preliminary peek" at a dispositive motion to assess the likelihood that the motion will be granted. McCabe v. Foley, 233 F.R.D. 683, 685 (M.D. Fla. 2006) (quotation marks omitted; quoting Feldman, 176 F.R.D. at 652). Parties seeking to stay discovery must make a "specific showing of prejudice or burdensomeness[.]" Cuhaci v. Kouri Grp., LP, No. 20-cv-23950, 2021 WL 1945819, at *2 (S.D. Fla. May 14, 2021) (quotation marks and citation omitted).

CASE NO. 21-24441-CIV-ALTONAGA/Torres

Discussion. Having taken a "preliminary peek" at Defendants' Motion to Compel Arbitration and to Dismiss the Complaint [ECF No. 28] ("Motion to Compel & Dismiss"), the Court cannot grant the Motion to Stay. Instead, the parties must conduct limited discovery to determine (1) whether the Court has personal jurisdiction over Voyager Ltd.; and (2) whether the arbitration agreement is enforceable. The Court explains.

Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction. Voyager Ltd. seeks to dismiss the Complaint [ECF No. 1] for lack of personal jurisdiction. (See Mot. to Compel & Dismiss 23). Voyager Ltd. maintains that Plaintiff has "failed to make a prima facie showing of personal jurisdiction" over it. (Reply 7; see Mot. to Compel & Dismiss 23). To establish personal jurisdiction over a nonresident defendant, a plaintiff "initially need only allege sufficient facts to make out a prima facie case of jurisdiction." Posner v. Essex Ins. Co., Ltd., 178 F.3d 1209, 1214 (11th Cir. 1999) (citation omitted). Courts must accept the facts alleged as true, to the extent they are undisputed. See id. at 1214–15. A genuine dispute of material jurisdictional fact warrants jurisdictional discovery. See Aviation One of Fla., Inc. v. Airborne Ins. Consultants (PTY), Ltd, 722 F. App'x 870, 878 (11th Cir. 2018).

Voyager Ltd. disputes that it purposefully "avail[ed itself] of the Florida consumer market through the promotion, marketing, sale, and service of [its] Voyager Platform in Florida." (Compl. ¶ 15 (alterations added); see Mot. to Compel & Dismiss 23). Voyager Ltd. describes itself as a mere "holding company" that does not conduct business in Florida. (Reply 7 (citations omitted); see also Mot. to Compel & Dismiss 24).

But Voyager Ltd.'s own statements contradict its position and bolster Plaintiff's allegations that it provides services in Florida. In Voyager Ltd.'s March 2021 earnings call, one of its representatives stated, "We're at 49 states today. We offer our services in 49 states. It's only New York that we're not — we don't offer this service." (Compl., Ex. G, March 3, 2021 Earnings Call [ECF No. 1-8] 17; see id. 2 ("[W]elcome to Voyager Digital Limited earnings call." (alteration added)). It is possible that the representative meant to reference Voyager Digital, LLC, when he used "we," but this ambiguity only accentuates the need for jurisdictional discovery.

Although the Court is only conducting a "preliminary peek at the merits," McCabe, 233 F.R.D. at 685 (citation and quotation marks omitted), other courts have concluded that similar evidence of business activity within a jurisdiction is sufficient to satisfy a plaintiff's initial burden of alleging personal jurisdiction. See, e.g., Sculptchair, Inc. v. Century Arts, Ltd., 94 F.3d 623, 628, 632 (11th Cir. 1996) (affirming finding of personal jurisdiction over nonresident defendant where her "sporadic" business activities occurred in Florida); Kinney v. Mindsize, LLC, No. 20-62094-Civ, 2021 WL 3911859, at *4–5 (S.D. Fla. June 7, 2021) (concluding that unrebutted allegations of business activity in a state "establish at least a prima facie basis for exercising personal jurisdiction" (italics omitted)). Given the Complaint's allegations and Voyager Ltd.'s own statement that it operates in 49 states, including Florida, the possibility of dismissal "is not apparent enough after a 'preliminary peek' to warrant an across-the-board stay of discovery[.]" Cabrera v. Progressive Behav. Sci., Inc., 331 F.R.D. 185, 187 (S.D. Fla. 2019) (alteration added).

While Plaintiff has satisfied his prima facie showing at this juncture, Voyager Ltd. has produced a declaration that conflicts with Plaintiff's allegations and evidence. (See Mot. to Compel & Dismiss, Ex. A., Casey Decl. [ECF No. 28-1] 3 ("Voyager Ltd[.] is a foreign holding company parent of Voyager [Digital] LLC with no operations or employees. Voyager Ltd[.] does not operate or market the Voyager Platform." (alterations added))). Even though factual conflicts merit jurisdictional discovery, see Aviation One of Fla., 722 F. App'x at 878, Voyager Ltd. opposes discovery because "Plaintiff has not moved the Court for jurisdictional discovery or for an extension of time to respond to the Motion to Compel" (Reply 6).²

Courts may occasionally deny informal requests for jurisdictional discovery, see Hinkle v. Cirrus Design Corp., 775 F. App'x 545, 550 (11th Cir. 2019), but they also "have the power to order the discovery of facts necessary to determine their jurisdiction over the merits[,]" Aviation One of Fla., 722 F. App'x at 878 (alteration added; citation omitted). The Court opts to exercise its authority to order jurisdictional discovery to resolve the disputed facts surrounding personal jurisdiction rather than waste time awaiting further briefing.

Nevertheless, if Plaintiffs' jurisdictional discovery requests are too far-reaching, and conferral is unsuccessful at resolving any disagreement, Defendants may address that matter with Magistrate Judge Torres.

Motion to Compel Arbitration. Defendants also argue that (1) permitting discovery prejudices Defendants because it risks a conclusion that they waived their right to arbitrate (see Mot. 4); (2) the Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA") requires the Court stay discovery until arbitration is conducted (see id. 4–5); and (3) failure to grant a stay will waste the parties' resources (see id. 5–6). These arguments do not persuade.

First, Defendants can rest assured knowing that their participation in court-ordered discovery will not waive their right to arbitrate. It may be true that "substantially participat[ing]

² Voyager Ltd. also argues that the Court should deny Plaintiff's "informal requests for" jurisdictional discovery because Plaintiff omitted any jurisdictional inquiries in his first wave of requests. (Reply 6). Nonsense. Plaintiff served discovery before Voyager Ltd. moved to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction. (See Resp. 6). Plaintiff's failure to predict Voyager Ltd.'s position does not require that he forgo jurisdictional discovery.

CASE NO. 21-24441-CIV-ALTONAGA/Torres

in litigation" could reach "a point inconsistent with an intent to arbitrate." Citibank, N.A. v. Stok & Assocs., P.A., 387 F. App'x 921, 924 (11th Cir. 2010) (alteration added; citation and quotation marks omitted). But no waiver occurs when a party invokes its right to arbitrate, and the court orders it to engage in discovery. See, e.g., Burch v. P.J. Cheese, Inc., 861 F.3d 1338, 1351–52 (11th Cir. 2017) ("To conclude that [defendant] acted inconsistently with its right to arbitrate, we would have to conclude that [defendant] should have disobeyed the District Court's order. We decline to adopt such a position." (alterations added)).

Second, Defendants are correct that the FAA requires courts to stay "any issue referable to arbitration under an agreement[,]" but courts must first be "satisfied that the issue involved in such suit or proceeding is referable to arbitration under such an agreement[.]" 9 U.S.C. § 3 (alterations added). It is not immediately apparent, even after a "preliminary peek at the merits" of the Motion to Compel, that the arbitration agreement is enforceable. McCabe, 233 F.R.D. at 685 (citation and quotation marks omitted).

To begin, assessing the merits proves difficult because it is unclear whether Florida or New Jersey law applies. (See Mot. to Compel & Dismiss 18–21; Resp. 13). Regardless, courts in both jurisdictions have chosen not to immediately enforce arbitration agreements that bear at least some resemblance to the arbitration agreement at issue here. See Doe v. Natt, 299 So. 3d 599, 600–02 (Fla. 2d DCA 2020); Morgan v. Sanford Brown Inst., 137 A.3d 1168, 1182 (N.J. 2016).

Moreover, compelling arbitration could depend on which version, if any, of the arbitration provisions Plaintiff assented to. For example, even if a January 2021 arbitration provision is unenforceable (see Resp. 14), then Plaintiff could still be subject to an amended, later, valid arbitration agreement. Until the parties have an opportunity to evaluate different iterations of the arbitration agreement and fully brief their enforceability, the Court cannot definitively state that Defendants' chance of success is "apparent enough" to merit a discovery stay. Cabrera, 331 F.R.D. at 187.

Third, Defendants maintain that permitting discovery will waste the parties' and Court's resources. (See Mot. 5). Not only does this argument rely on a premature assumption that Plaintiff has "an invalid claim" (id. 6 (quotation marks omitted; quoting Chudasama v. Mazda Motor Corp., 123 F.3d 1353, 1368 (11th Cir. 1997)), but Defendants point only to cherry-picked exhibits purportedly demonstrating that discovery would be a waste (see Mot. 6 (citing Mot. to Compel & Dismiss, Exs. A–F [ECF No. 28-1])). The Court cannot take Defendants' word without giving Plaintiff a chance to investigate the evidence. Plaintiff will therefore have an opportunity to take discovery and assess the validity of the arbitration clause. See Envision Ins. Co. v. GrayRobinson, P.A., No. 8:13-cv-114, 2013 WL 12388601, at *3 (M.D. Fla. Aug. 19, 2013) (denying a motion to stay discovery pending a motion to compel arbitration where the arbitration clause's validity was at issue).

Accordingly, it is

ORDERED AND AJUDGED as follows:

- Defendants, Voyager Digital Ltd. and Voyager Digital, LLC's Expedited Motion to Stay Discovery Pending Resolution of Defendants' Motion to Compel Arbitration and to Dismiss the Complaint [ECF No. 29] is DENIED without prejudice.
- Plaintiff shall propound written jurisdictional and arbitration-related discovery requests by March 7, 2022.³

Docket Text:

PAPERLESS ORDER denying without prejudice [40] the Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification. The Plaintiffs may refile their motion after we rule on the pending Motion to Dismiss [ECF No. 41]. We also DENY as moot [43] the Defendants' Motion for Extension of Time since we've denied the Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification.

Finally, we deny [42] the Defendants' Motion to Stay and for a Protective Order. "Motions to stay discovery are not favored because when discovery is delayed or prolonged it can create case management problems which impede the Court's responsibility to expedite discovery and cause unnecessary litigation expenses and problems." Cuhaci v. Kouri Grp., LP, 2021 WL 1945819, at *2 (S.D. Fla. May 14, 2021) (cleaned up). "[D]iscovery stay motions are generally denied except where a specific showing of prejudice or burdensomeness is made." Montoya v. PNC Bank, N.A., 2014 WL 2807617, at *2 (S.D. Fla. June 20, 2014). The party moving for a stay of discovery "bears the burden of showing good cause and reasonableness." Feldman v. Flood, 176 F.R.D. 651, 652 (M.D. Fla. 1997). Similarly, the Court's scheduling orders may be modified "only for good cause." Fed. R. Civ. P. 16(b)(4).

Here, the Defendants have failed to establish that staying discovery is warranted. The Defendants' sole justification for requesting a stay is that their pending motion to dismiss might eliminate the need for discovery. But that could be said about nearly all motions to dismiss -- and so, the Defendants have done nothing to establish a "specific showing of prejudice or burdensomeness." They have not, for example, pointed to extraordinary costs or to a long-awaited ruling on a dispositive motion or to a particularly dubious complaint. In fact, taking "a preliminary peek" at the merits of the motion to dismiss, the motion is not "clearly" meritorious. Feldman, 176 F.R.D. at 652-53. For these reasons, the Defendants have not established that a stay would be reasonable or that there is good cause for the request in this case.

And, to the extent the Defendants' Motion seeks a protective order, we'll DENY that, too, because the Defendants haven't told us what they seek protection from or what that protective order might look like. Signed by Judge Roy K. Altman on 11/18/2022. (js07)

MARK CUBAN, et al.,

ORDER FOLLOWING HEARING

This cause comes before the Court following a discovery hearing conducted on January 6, 2023. [ECF No. 76]. At the hearing the parties discussed the following issues: (1) Defendants' request to bifurcate deposition discovery; (2) Defendants' responses to Plaintiff's initial discovery requests; (3) the date for Defendant Mark Cuban's deposition; (4) whether Mr. Cuban's deposition will be limited to jurisdictional issues; (5) the date Defendant Dallas Mavericks ("Mavericks") must produce employees Ryan Mackey and Kyle Tapply to be deposed; (6) scheduling the inperson depositions of three Florida-based Plaintiffs, Pierce Robertson, Rachel Gold, and Sanford Gold, as well as non-party Eric Rares (Rachel Gold's husband); and (7) Plaintiffs' responses to Defendants' First Omnibus Request for Production.

Having heard from the parties, in accordance with the ruling from the bench, and for the reasons stated on the record, it is ORDERED AND ADJUDGED as follows:

- 1. Defendants' request to bifurcate discovery allowing Plaintiffs to initially depose witnesses regarding solely jurisdictional issues is denied'
- 2. Mark Cuban's deposition, scheduled to take place in Dallas, Texas, on February 2, 2023, will be taken in full and will not be limited to jurisdictional issues;

- 3. The three Florida-based Plaintiffs shall appear for in-person depositions as follows:
 - a. Pierce Robertson may be deposed in Chicago, Illinois during the week of January 9, 2023;
 - b. Rachel Gold shall be deposed in her Coral Springs, Florida home on January 23, 2023;
 - c. Sanford Gold shall be deposed in Miami, Florida, on either January 23 or 24, 2023;
 - d. Non-party Eric Rares shall be deposed in Miami, Florida on either January 23 or 24, 2023;
- 4. Plaintiffs shall produce outstanding discovery requested in Defendants' First Omnibus Request for Production. Specifically, Plaintiffs must produce outstanding discovery relating to Plaintiffs' Voyager accounts and trading and financial information related to those Voyager accounts by the close of business January 13, 2023. With respect to the request for "documents relating to any investment accounts with any brokerage firm, person or entity," at this juncture, Plaintiffs have not established the relevancy of those documents; and
- 5. Defendants shall produce Mavericks employees Ryan Mackey and Kyle Tapply to be deposed prior to February 23, 2023. Defendants shall prioritize and produce all discovery to Plaintiffs as to these two individuals by the end of January 2023.

JOINT REPORT IN RESPONSE TO THE COURT'S MAY 16, 2023 ORDER [ECF 88]

Plaintiffs, Edwin Garrison, et al. ("Plaintiffs"), and Kevin Paffrath, et al. ("Defendants") (Defendants together with Plaintiffs, the "Parties"), submit this Joint Report, in accordance with the Court's May 16, 2023 Order. ECF No. 88. All of the Parties have been very cooperative and met via phone and Zoom teleconference, but respectfully submit different suggestions for how the Court should conduct discovery on issues of service and jurisdiction. In accordance with the Court's Order, the Parties respectfully state as follows:

I. PLAINTIFFS' REPORT ON DISCOVERY

Plaintiffs and their Counsel have been litigating crypto class actions before this Court¹ for over a year and have learned a great deal during the discovery process. Plaintiffs and their Counsel have fully briefed, and received many Orders, on issues including jurisdictional discovery. Plaintiffs' Counsel have also been litigating similar class actions against Defendants Mark Cuban and his Dallas Mavericks, for their role in promoting Voyager's unregistered securities offerings,² where plaintiffs have completed most of the necessary discovery and depositions.

Plaintiffs want to streamline and narrow discovery so that the Parties can focus on two main questions: (1) Did FTX offer and sell "unregistered securities" (including through offering and selling the FTX interest accounts and FTT tokens), and (2) did these specific Defendants "promote" the sale of the unregistered securities, leading to joint and several liability against FTX under the Florida (and/or other applicable state) securities statute(s).

In the Court's Case Management Order [D.E. 62], the Court already stated it was not (at this stage) bifurcating discovery. In the related Voyager cases, this Court (in the Cassidy Action) and Magistrate Judge Reid and Judge Altman (in the Voyager Brand Ambassadors Action) also found that there was no clear line between merits and class discovery under these facts and declined to bifurcate discovery. After these rulings in the Voyager Brand Ambassadors Action, counsel for Mr. Cuban even agreed that we take only one deposition (7 hours), so we only took one complete deposition that covered all areas (jurisdiction and merits). The Court has set a discovery deadline here of July 3rd [D.E. 62], for Plaintiffs to complete discovery related to the impending class certification.

Service of the Complaint: Issues regarding whether the Defendants were properly served is easier, because Plaintiffs provided 8 of the 10 Defendants (other than Armstrong and Creators Agency LLC) via email on March 31, 2023, with a copy of the Complaint and Notice of Commencement of Action and Request for Waiver of Service forms. See Composite Exhibit A. Many of the Defendants declined to return the Waiver forms, so they were served with formal process. Although a few Defendants contend that they were improperly served, each defendant has now appeared through counsel, who should be authorized (either by their client or by the Court) to accept service of process on their behalf, to the extent there are any perceived issues with how process was served. The current service as it stands was certainly sufficient to provide all Defendants with notice to the extent that they have now appeared in this Action. In any event, Plaintiffs certainly would not object to the Court granting Defendants—as requested—an extension of time for their responses to the Complaint as if their counsel now executed the waiver (as the deadline for responses under the waivers that were sent on March 31, 2023, would be May 30, 2023).

To the extent that any of these Defendants refuse to authorize their counsel to accept service on their behalf, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the Court can enter an order authorizing Plaintiffs to serve any Defendant with process through email to their counsel in this Action, particularly in the case of Defendant Kullberg, whose whereabouts are unknown but may be currently outside of the United States,³ since the Court ordered all Defendants be served before June 13, 2023. See, e.g., ECF Nos. 3, 61, 65.

Jurisdictional Discovery: Judge K. Michael Moore recently granted Plaintiffs leave to file an Amended Complaint in the related matter, Garrison v. Bankman-Fried, No. 1:22-cv-23753-KMM, ECF No. 205. We know now that it was FTX's Miami office, and its Miami-based Vice President of Business Development, Mr. Avinash Dabir, who was personally involved with originating, organizing and directing most of the FTX celebrity and promotional activities. Now that the Parties conducted their Rule 26 Meeting, Plaintiffs already served Defendants on May 17, 2023, with 7 very narrow requests for production (seeking documents about their own FTX promotions) and notices for one brief Zoom deposition of each Defendant. See Composite Exhibit B.

Plaintiffs do not want to create any unreasonable burdens for any party. In all of our prior cases, none of the Defendants have sustained their burden to show any "undue burden" in responding to this discovery, and Plaintiffs have effectively completed all of that discovery efficiently and expeditiously. These 7 narrow requests are very specific and Plaintiffs are glad for defendants to produce their materials, as they are kept in the ordinary course of business. Plaintiffs are also open to work out any specific cases, where for some reason, the production of the responsive materials may be "unduly burdensome." Moreover, Plaintiffs agree to take only one deposition via Zoom (so no travel is necessary), and Defendants can select their own location), on any date (at least 10 days after the materials are produced, but well before July 3rd).

³ Various recent sources state that Kullberg may be located in the "United States" or in Japan, and her husband, Eric Kullberg, lists Dubai as his location on his LinkedIn profile. See https://www.linkedin.com/in/erika2/ (Erika Kullberg LinkedIn); https://ae.linkedin.com/in/eric-kullberg-315b633a?trk=public post feed-actor-name (Eric Kullberg LinkedIn); https://il.linkedin.com/posts/eric-kullberg-315b633a erikataughtme-activity6988093145766887425-Vacy ("I am unbelievably proud of my wife, Erika Kullberg, who has travelled the world over the past four months to interview industry experts, entrepreneurs, leaders, authors and creators as part of her latest project — the 'Erika Taught Me' podcast.").

2. DEFENDANT'S REPORT ON DISCOVERY

Defendants Creators Agency LLC, Erika Kullberg, Brian Jung, Tom Nash, Jaspreet Singh, Ben Armstrong, Jeremy Lefebvre, Andrei Jikh, Graham Stephan, and Kevin Paffrath intend to challenge personal jurisdiction over them. Additionally, Defendants Jeremy Lefebvre, Andrei Jikh, Erika Kullberg, and Kevin Paffrath do not believe that they have been properly served. As required by the Court's amended order of May 16, 2023, ECF No. 88, Plaintiffs and Defendants have conferred. Below, Defendants set forth their positions and address the Court's directives.

Defendants summarize their position as follows: Defendants do not believe that Plaintiffs are entitled to any jurisdictional discovery for the reasons set forth below. If, however, the Court permits limited jurisdictional discovery, then the Court should adopt a discovery and briefing schedule similar to the one it issued in Cassidy v. Voyager Digital Ltd. See Order, Cassidy v. Voyager Digital Ltd., No. 21-cv-24441-CMA, at 6–7 (S.D. Fla. Mar. 3, 2022), ECF No. 36 (the "Voyager Digital Order"). Regardless of whether the Court permits limited jurisdictional discovery, the Court—as it also ruled in the Voyager Digital Order—should set aside or stay all other deadlines in its Scheduling Order. ECF No. 62. Only if any of Defendants are not dismissed because of lack of personal jurisdiction or improper service should the case then proceed on the merits.

Personal Jurisdiction

At the outset, based on the allegations in the Complaint, Plaintiffs are not entitled to any jurisdictional discovery. It is well established that courts have wide latitude in denying jurisdictional discovery where a plaintiff has failed to make a prima facie case for jurisdiction. See, e.g., Frontera Res. Azerbaijan Corp. v. State Oil Co. of the Azerbaijan Rep., 582 F.3d 393, 401 (2d Cir. 2009) ("A district court has wide latitude to determine the scope of discovery, and is typically within its discretion to deny jurisdictional discovery when the plaintiff has not made out a prima facie case for jurisdiction." (alteration omitted) (citation omitted) (internal quotation marks omitted)); Negrón–Torres v. Verizon Commc'ns, Inc., 478 F.3d 19, 27 (1st Cir. 2007) ("[B]ecause Negrón has failed to make a colorable claim for personal jurisdiction, we have no reason to overturn the district court's denial of her request for jurisdictional discovery."); Vision Media TV Grp., LLC v. Forte, 724 F. Supp. 2d 1260, 1267 n.3 (S.D. Fla. 2010) ("Plaintiff must provide the Court with some showing establishing the need for jurisdictional discovery."); 8 CHARLES ALAN WRIGHT, FEDERAL PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE § 2008.3 (3d ed. Apr. 2014) ("[A] district court may properly refuse or limit jurisdictional discovery if the plaintiff has not made a sufficient showing that there may be a basis for exercise of jurisdiction").

Here, Plaintiffs have failed to make a prima facie case for personal jurisdiction over any Defendant. To begin with, the Complaint contains no well-pleaded allegations about any one of Defendants that would support personal jurisdiction over any of them. Indeed, apart from brief allegations identifying Defendants, see Compl. ¶¶ 22–31, the Complaint contains no allegations about any Defendant suggesting that any is subject to personal jurisdiction in Florida. Although the Complaint does contain a paragraph on personal jurisdiction, see Compl. ¶ 33, the allegations in that paragraph—which lumps all Defendants together—contain "no more than conclusions" that "are not entitled to the assumption of truth." Ashcroft v. Igbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). Although—as the Court recently observed—"a plaintiff 'initially need only allege sufficient facts to make out a prima facie case of jurisdiction," Voyager Digital Order at 2 (quoting Posner v. Essex Ins. Co., 178 F.3d 1209, 1214 (11th Cir. 1999), Plaintiffs' Complaint has failed even to do that. In short, the Court should not permit any jurisdictional discovery at all. See Indus. Network, Inc. v. Hitti, 2014 WL 324656, at *3 (S.D. Fla. Jan. 28, 2014) ("The purpose of jurisdictional discovery is to ascertain the truth of the allegations underlying the assertion of personal jurisdiction—it is not a vehicle for a fishing expedition in the hopes that discovery will sustain the exercise of jurisdiction.").

If the Court does not permit any jurisdictional discovery, then the Court should require Defendants to file their motions to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction, to dismiss for improper service, and to dismiss for failure to state a claim and to join indispensable parties within 30 days, so that all Defendants respond at the same time. All other deadlines and merits discovery should be stayed until after the Court rules on these motions to dismiss.

If, on the other hand, the Court is inclined instead to permit limited jurisdictional discovery, then the Court should adopt a discovery and briefing schedule similar to the one set forth in the Voyager Digital Order. Specifically, Defendants propose the following schedule, which would conclude jurisdictional discovery within roughly two months' time:

• Within 10 days after the Court enters an order, the parties must serve any written discovery (which may consist of requests for production, interrogatories, and requests for admission) on the opposing party⁴, which must be limited solely to personal jurisdiction.

⁴ For clarity, if jurisdictional discovery is permitted, Defendants seek to take discovery from

- Within 21 days after service of any written discovery, the parties must serve responses, any objections, and any non-objected-to discovery (together, "Responsive Discovery"). For any objections, the parties must promptly meet and confer and contact Judge Damian's chambers to arrange a date for a hearing.
- Within 21 days after service of the Responsive Discovery, any desired depositions must take place. As with the written discovery, the scope of any deposition is limited solely to personal jurisdiction and is limited to 5 hours each.
- Within 7 days after completion of jurisdictional discovery, Defendants must file their motions to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction, for improper service, and for failure to state a cause of action and failure to join indispensable parties. Thereafter, response and reply memoranda are due within the timeframe permitted by the Local Rules.

Defendants acknowledge that this briefing schedule builds in more time than that in the Voyager Digital Order. But that additional time—about two months for jurisdictional discovery to be completed and for the motions to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction to be filed—is necessary because inn Voyager Digital, there were only two defendants; here, there are ten defendants. Thus, discovery will take longer logistically, and additional time is warranted.

Regardless of whether the Court permits limited jurisdictional discovery, the Court should set aside or stay all other deadlines in its Scheduling Order. ECF No. 62 including merits discovery. "As a general rule, courts should address issues relating to personal jurisdiction before reaching the merits of a plaintiff's claims." Rep. of Pan. v. BCCI Holdings (Lux.) S.A., 119 F.3d 935, 941 (11th Cir. 1997); see also id. ("A defendant that is not subject to the jurisdiction of the court cannot be bound by its rulings. Thus, as a preliminary matter, courts should determine if they have the power to bind a defendant with a ruling on the merits of the case." (citation omitted)). For this reason, the Court stayed all its deadlines in the Voyager Digital Order, and it should do the same here. Only if any Defendant is not dismissed because of lack of personal jurisdiction or improper service should the Court permit merits discovery.

Service of Process

Four Defendants assert that that have not been properly served with process: Jeremy Lefebvre, Andrei Jikh, Kevin Paffrath, and Erika Kullberg. On May 18, 2023, these Defendants Plaintiffs regarding personal jurisdiction as well. During meet-and-confer sessions with counsel for Defendant Paffrath, Plaintiffs' counsel seem to indicate that they believed jurisdictional discovery should be provided only from Defendants to Plaintiff. Defendants disagree with this position and believe that jurisdictional discovery should be available to all parties.

conferred with Plaintiffs in an attempt to resolve the issues surrounding service. Defendants Lefebvre, Jikh, and Paffrath have agreed to accept service of process through an appropriate waiver, and it is their position that doing so would entitle them to 60 days to answer or otherwise respond to the Complaint. See FED. R. CIV. P. 4(d). Based on the conferral, Plaintiffs seemed inclined to permit these Defendants additional time to respond if Defendants accepted service of process. Plaintiffs, however, raised a concern that the Court would not want multiple or varying deadlines within which different Defendants would respond.

To address this concern, Defendants propose that, if no jurisdictional discovery is permitted, all Defendants be given 30 days to file a motion for lack of personal jurisdiction and to file a motion to dismiss based on Rule 12(b)(6) and/or Rule 12(b)(7) grounds (and Defendant Kullberg will file a motion to dismiss to challenge the sufficiency of service). Alternatively, if jurisdictional discovery is permitted, the motions to dismiss would be filed in accordance with the schedule proposed above (7 days after completion of jurisdictional discovery) and all Defendants would agree to participate in jurisdictional discovery in the interim period before the motions to dismiss would be due.

With regard to Defendant Paffrath, Plaintiffs claim to have served Mr. Paffrath by serving the summons complaint on the windshield of his wife's automobile, in Ventura, California on April 27, 2023. (See Affidavit of Jeffrey S. Larock, ECF No. 58). Paffrath's counsel has preliminarily reviewed whether this purported service of process complies with federal or California law and believes the service is defective. However, Paffrath's counsel has proposed to Plaintiffs' counsel it would accept Plaintiffs' Request for Waiver of Service of Process, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure(4)(d) in lieu of contesting service and would agree to the procedure proposed above.

Defendant Kullberg conferred with Plaintiffs' counsel via a zoom conference and via email in an effort to resolve the issues surrounding service. Specifically, Kullberg's service was not proper under New York law because she does not reside, and has never resided, at 40 Waterside Plz, Apt 11D, New York, NY, see ECF No. 25, nor at any location in New York. Furthermore, the return of service has inaccurate statements. Defendant Kullberg has requested that Plaintiffs withdraw their affidavit of return of service, and properly serve Defendant Kullberg. No agreement on the issues of service as it relates to Kullberg has been reached.

ORDER

THIS CAUSE came before the Court upon the parties' Joint Report [ECF No. 93] in response to the Court's May 16, 2023 Order [ECF No. 88]. The parties state that they have conferred but have different proposals as to how the Court should proceed on issues of jurisdictional discovery and service. (See Joint Report 1).

With respect to jurisdictional discovery, Plaintiffs have already served Defendants with "7 very narrow requests for production . . . and notices for one brief Zoom deposition of each Defendant[,]" which Plaintiffs believe should not create "any unreasonable burdens for any party." (Id. 3 (alterations added)). Defendants oppose any jurisdictional discovery, arguing that Plaintiffs have "failed to make a prima facie case for personal jurisdiction over any Defendant." (Id. 5). If the Court permits jurisdictional discovery, Defendants propose a schedule lasting approximately two months. (See id. 5–6).

Three of the parties previously contesting the sufficiency of service have agreed to accept service of process through waiver. (See id. 7). The parties have not reached agreement on the issue of service with respect to Defendant Erika Kullberg, who maintains that service was improper. (See id. 7). Plaintiffs request that to the extent Kullberg refuses to authorize her counsel to accept service on her behalf, that the Court authorize Plaintiffs to serve her through email to her counsel. (See id. 2–3 (noting that Defendant Kullberg's "whereabouts are unknown but may be currently outside of the United States" (footnote call number omitted)).

The Court finds that jurisdictional discovery is appropriate; additional jurisdictional facts need not be alleged in Plaintiffs' pleading. Being fully advised, it is

ORDERED as follows:

- Erika Kullberg has until May 30, 2023 to file a motion challenging the sufficiency of service.
- 2. The parties have until May 22, 2023 to serve written jurisdictional discovery requests.
- 3. Objections to written jurisdictional discovery requests following proper conferral with opposing counsel must be exchanged by May 29, 2023. Should any objections be served and not resolved by conferral, the moving party or parties shall contact Magistrate Judge Melissa Damian by June 1, 2023 to arrange a date and time for a discovery hearing.
- The parties shall complete document production related to personal jurisdiction and answers to interrogatories in response to jurisdictional discovery requests by June 12, 2023.
- Defendants and Plaintiffs shall complete any depositions related to jurisdictional discovery by June 23, 2023.
- 6. Plaintiffs have until June 30, 2023 to file an amended complaint or a notice advising they intend to proceed with the Complaint [ECF No. 1].

CASE NO. 23-21023-CIV-ALTONAGA/Damian

7. Defendants have until July 18, 2023 to file a combined motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction and/or to transfer venue, or a notice that they are with drawing their challenge to personal jurisdiction and/or venue. No extensions of time will be given for response and reply memoranda.

8. No answers to the Complaint or motions to dismiss under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6) shall be filed until after Defendants either file a motion to dismiss for lack of personal jurisdiction and/or to transfer venue or notice that they are withdrawing their challenge to personal jurisdiction and/or venue.

Hi Sam, apologies for what looks like a messy game of telephone here.

GOVERNMENT EXHIBIT 320 22 Cr. 673 (LAK) Re-affirming that we haven't discussed or considered "12B", so genuinely confused where that's coming from Simply put, our interest in a potential partnership with FTX (or anyone, really) comes from optimism about the long-term potential of the business and the positive impact it can have.

In the interest of transparency: we are (of course) impressed by the scale you've accomplished so quickly, but we do have some concerns, briefly outlined below.

- 1) Governance. As we understand, FTX is effectively owned + controlled by Sam, lacking more traditional corporate governance model, rights, etc. One example of where this can negatively manifest with crypto companies is through (unintended) value leakage, e.g. via FTT, Alameda, or some other mechanism. Like you, we place a heavy emphasis on alignment. As a shareholder, we'd want confidence that the value FTX creates accrues directly to equity holders. We're not suggesting that this isn't the case today; just that, candidly, we aren't sure how to think about it yet.
- 2) Price. Thanks for your earlier feedback; let's discuss live tomorrow.

Our lens may be colored by our sense of the highest order goal: paving the best path to FTX building an enduring franchise, and (eventually) listing as a public company. I don't think we're misaligned on this goal, so perhaps the disagreement is on how to maximize success to that end.

In any case, appreciate your patience and look forward to discussing in higher resolution tomorrow.

Hi Sam: happy to talk through it. We have never thought about "12" as a number, much less talked about that number with anyone. It also is not in our interest to do anything to harm you or FTX — we are long crypto more than we are long any particular company, and we all benefit from good actors like you building successfully. I would be surprised if this chatter is coming from us, or anyone we associate with — this is not how high quality venture/growth investors behave.

90% sure it's coming from those conversations.

Not super appreciative of that, though no reason to think it's you guys in particular, could be coming from any one of them.

Case 1:23-md-03076-KMM Document 449-3 Entered on FLSD Docket 01/03/2024 Page 412f 6f

Frankly a pretty bad look given the Coinbase holdings many of that group have, makes us wonder what the motivation behind it is.

I'm not sure what your guys thoughts are on the raise but maybe to be more explicit about this: it's totally fine if you want a $12b val, but we don't, and we would rather just not raise, which is totally fine with us! Also lots of others are happy with 20b, and FTT implies a much higher val, so would be kinda weird for us to raise a 10-12 from a group of people who have not historically been very aligned with us. Super happy to keep talking about the raise if you want, and happy to talk about valuation if you have a convincing case for it!

I'm not really sure how we as a community got to where we are -- we should be looking to work together in the crypto space, not fight each other, and things seem surprisingly sectarian -- though at some point vested interest in projects might just cause that, which could just be a prisoner's dilemma.

I'm happy to hop on a call to discuss if helpful--we have one scheduled for tomorrow--but wanted to jump on this fairly quickly because it's very important to us that there be honesty in this process and we suspect that somewhere near here misleading information is being passed behind our backs.

And again -- don't mean this as specifically targeting you guys -- could just as easily be any of the others.

We've just been chatting with a few folks we know and often collaborate with (Tiger, MFN, Ribbit, Coatue) to compare notes on the opportunity.

The discussion / consensus seems to be:

- 1) everyone loves you, SBF + the core FTX platform
- 2) $20B is a very high price (even for Tiger and Coatue who are setting price records in the private markets)

What is the message that you think is leaking?

One thought/question for you:

We really like you and the FTX business, but feel $20B+ is mismatched with the scale of the current business. We gather that many other high quality investors may feel similarly.

Would you entertain an offer around $10B if we can aggregate a super high quality syndicate?

Eg perhaps it is Paradigm, Tiger, Coatue, Ribbit, MFN, etc?

This would still be low (~4%) dilution, while getting a bunch of premium names on the cap table ahead of any plans to go public / make inroads into the US.

If you'd be open to entertaining, we could work to try to put something together...

Note: The multiple of 31,8X was calculated based on 12 investments using the following formula: [Current market price of all SGC primary or private deals which are actively traded with a quosed market price] / [Total invested capital on such deals]. The 6 primary or private deals for which there is not a current public market price are excluded from the calculation, although, if comps were used, many of these investments would show significant gains.

Finally, secondary market purchases of Solana (at a blended price below $2) and FTX's exchange token FTT (at a blended price below $1) are not included in the above estimates. As of January 5, 2022, Solana was traded at $149.31 and FTT at $37.23.

Interesting Solana Ecosystem Projects

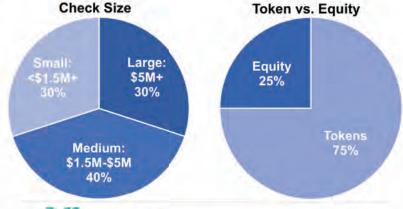

Product	Industry	Description
PYTH	Data Oracle	To compete with NASDAQ as a provider of real time data to financial firms, Jump Capital identified Solana as the only viable blockchain on which to launch Pyth, an oracle that feeds real-time data from around the world directly into Serum and registered on the Solana blockchain.
Serum	Infrastructure	FTX chose Solana on which to build Serum, the first ever decentralized central limit order book (CLOB) on which other financial apps are built. We discuss Serum in more detail in the following slides.
柴jet	DeFi	Taking advantage of Solana's highly composable blockchain, Jet Protocol built out a borrow-lending protocol available for its own users and also other projects within the Serum ecosystem. Jet will even allow for cross chain rate arbitrage powered by Solana and Serum.
Parrot	DeFi	Parrot Protocol is a liquidity and lending network that uses their own stablecoin, PAI to centralize exposure taken across multiple collateral types. The team chose Solana because allows multiple processing steps to be combined into a single transaction, enabling complex collateral types to be efficiently liquidated.
AUDIUS	Music Streaming	Audius is a blockchain-powered, decentralized music streaming service with social media features. It is owned and run by an open-source community of artists, fans, and developers. The founders of Audius chose Solana for its high-performance and ability to house a platform with the potential need to scale rapidly.
STAR ATLAS	Gaming	Star Atlas is a next-generation video game involving space exploration, territorial conquest, political domination, and more. It features a decentralized economy and plans to evolve into a metaverse. (Watch trailer). The team chose Solana because it is the only blockchain with the computational bandwidth akin to the modern internet.

Portfolio Construction

In our prop capital investments, we were capital constrained and not able to "size up" and lead as many investment rounds as desired.

- In Liquid Value Fund I, we will continue to invest heavily in early-stage (Seed/Series A) projects. Check sizes are under $1.5M with 30% capital allocated. These early-stage investments will start a relationship with the founders and allow for value to be built post investment.
- Roughly 40% of the fund will be invested in deals between $1.5M-$5M. With this check size we will lead follow-ons for Seed/Series A projects. Additionally, we will participate in private placements.
- Finally, roughly 30% of the fund will be invested in deals over $5M. These are unique opportunities where ability to size up meets conviction.

Portfolio Construction

The investment breakdown of our prop capital could reflect thinking on future investment allocations.

- Solana projects (42%): We continue to see strong deal flow in the Solana ecosystem due to our strong reputation and mindshare. These projects span DeFi, NFTs/gaming, sports betting, and developer infrastructure.
- Chain-agnostic infrastructure (42%): We view cryptoadjacent or supporting infrastructure like centralized exchanges, wallets, market makers, and agnostic aggregators as superior investment opportunities in a multi-chain world.
- Non-Solana projects (16%): We continue to believe in a multi-chain world where different use cases are more suited or less suited for different chains. We have also made investments on Ethereum, NEAR, and Binance Smart Chain.

Potential Investment Breakdown

Note: The above percentages reflect the breakdown of our previous prop capital portfolio (19 investments); Liquid Value Fund I could exhibit a similar breakdown.

RYAN SALAME,

Defendant.

SUPERSEDING INFORMATION

S7 22 Cr. 673 (LAK)

Overview

1. From at least in or about 2020, up to and including in or about November 2022, RYAN SALAME, the defendant, engaged in multiple conspiracies to advance the interests of Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," and the cryptocurrency companies Bankman-Fried founded and controlled—including FTX.com ("FTX") and Alameda Research ("Alameda")—through the operation of an unlawful money transmitting business and violations of the federal election law. Specifically, from at least in or about 2020, up to and including in or about November 2022, SALAME conspired to operate Alameda and its affiliates on behalf of FTX as a means for transmitting funds on behalf of FTX customers, even though SALAME and his co-conspirators never obtained the required federal money transmitting licenses for Alameda and the relevant affiliates. From at least in or about 2020, up to and including in or about November 2022, SALAME conspired to influence cryptocurrency regulation in Washington, D.C. by steering tens of millions of dollars of illegal campaign contributions to both Democrats and Republicans.

Background on Alameda Research, FTX, and RYAN SALAME

2. In or about November 2017, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," founded Alameda, a quantitative cryptocurrency trading firm incorporated in Delaware, which had operations in the United States, Hong Kong, and The Bahamas. In or around May 2019, Bankman-

Fried founded FTX Trading Ltd., a global cryptocurrency exchange that, through several subsidiary entities, did business as FTX. Among other products, FTX offered customers a "spot market" for trading cryptocurrency in exchange for other cryptocurrencies or traditional currency, also known as fiat (referred to below generally as "dollars"), such as U.S. dollars.

- 3. From its launch, FTX grew rapidly. By in or about 2020, FTX was one of the largest digital asset exchanges in the world based on trading volume, and by in or about early 2022, FTX claimed to handle approximately $15 billion in daily trading volume on its platforms.
- 4. RYAN SALAME, the defendant, joined Alameda in or about 2019. In or about 2021, he was named the head of Alameda's settlements team and had primary responsibility over other staff to process customer fiat deposits and withdrawals. SALAME was later named co-CEO of FTX's Bahamian affiliate FTX Digital Markets Ltd. in or about October 2021.

SALAME and Others Conspired to Operate an Unlicensed Money Transmitting Business

- 5. From FTX's founding in or about 2019, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," sought to use the United States financial system, and in particular, bank accounts in the United States, to promote FTX's business. After FTX launched in or around May 2019, and in order to attract customers and their assets, including U.S. dollars, FTX needed bank accounts that would allow FTX customers to deposit dollars with FTX that could be used to purchase cryptocurrency assets and pay for transactions. When FTX was founded, however, many U.S. banks were reluctant to do business with cryptocurrency companies, and those banks that were willing to open accounts for cryptocurrency companies had extensive customer due diligence and licensing requirements, with which FTX was not compliant.
- Because FTX did not have its own bank accounts for holding customer deposits, for a period of time in or around 2019 and 2020, FTX instructed customers to wire dollar deposits to bank accounts that were owned or controlled by Alameda. These Alameda accounts had been opened as trading accounts and had been used almost exclusively for Alameda's trading purposes until they were also employed as accounts for FTX to receive and transmit its customer deposits and withdrawals. Alameda never informed the banks where these accounts were held that these accounts in Alameda's name began to be used in substantial part by FTX to accept customer deposits for, and as a vehicle for customer withdrawals from, FTX's cryptocurrency exchange.

- 7. In or about October 2019, RYAN SALAME, the defendant, and others attempted to open an account for FTX at a bank in California ("Bank-1") where Alameda already had bank accounts. Bank-1 made clear, however, that it would not open an account for customer deposits and withdrawals absent evidence that FTX was licensed and registered, including federal registration as a money services business, and that, in any event, Bank-1 would need to conduct an enhanced due diligence process before opening any account used to process customer deposits and withdrawals.
- 8. In or about January 2020, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," contacted Bank-1 about opening an FTX account. Bankman-Fried learned from Bank-1 that Bankman-Fried should not attempt to open an account for FTX, an international platform, at that time. He was further told that if he wished to open an account to process customer deposits and withdrawals for FTX.US, FTX's business in the United States, FTX.US would need to register as a money services business. While Bankman-Fried did later register FTX.US as a money services business in 2020, no attempts were made to make FTX a licensed money services business. Bankman-Fried and RYAN SALAME, the defendant, never sought to have FTX or Alameda comply with the regulatory requirements of licensure. Instead, FTX continued to use Alameda trading accounts to accept customer deposits and process customer withdrawals.

- 9. In part to obscure the relationship between FTX and Alameda, and in order to overcome Bank-1's refusal to open a bank account for FTX without extensive due diligence and licensing, in or about August 2020, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," directed the incorporation of a new U.S.-based entity, North Dimension. RYAN SALAME, the defendant, Bankman-Fried, and others chose the name "North Dimension" in part to conceal that there was a relationship between North Dimension and Alameda from banks approving transactions with the North Dimension bank account.
- Aware of the fact that Bank-1 would not open an exchange account or account for receiving customer deposits for an entity without the appropriate registration and enhanced due diligence, RYAN SALAME, the defendant, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," and other Alameda employees told Bank-1 a false story, namely, that North Dimension sought to open an account to function as a trading account connected to Alameda's existing trading accounts, instead of the truth, which was that the North Dimension account would function as an account to receive and transmit FTX customer deposits. At the direction of SALAME and Bankman-Fried, among others, employees of Alameda completed an account application that falsely stated that the purpose of the North Dimension bank account was for "trading" and "market making." Bank-1 was also given a completed North Dimension due diligence questionnaire-which Bankman-Fried signed—that falsely stated that North Dimension "trades on multiple cryptocurrency exchanges worldwide for its own account" and that North Dimension "also participates in direct peer-to-peer, OTC purchases and sales with certain third parties for its own account." Furthermore, despite the fact that North Dimension was created for the purpose of transmitting customer deposits on and off the FTX exchange, the due diligence questionnaire falsely claimed that North Dimension was not a money services business. SALAME was aware that false information was provided to Bank-

1 as part of this questionnaire.

- 11. In or about April 2021, Bank-1 approved the opening of the North Dimension account, without enhanced due diligence or review by Bank-1's executive committee, as would have been required had the true purposes of North Dimension's account been disclosed to Bank-1.
- deposits to the North Dimension account. Thereafter, when FTX customers deposited or withdrew fiat currency, Alameda personnel, who maintained control over the North Dimension account and acted under the direction and supervision of RYAN SALAME, the defendant, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," and their co-conspirators, manually credited or subtracted the customer's FTX account with the corresponding amount of fiat currency on an internal ledger system. Customers could then convert their deposits to a range of cryptocurrencies and traditional currencies, engage in various types of trading, and make withdrawals denominated in various types of cryptocurrencies and traditional currencies. FTX charged fees and generated revenues from many of these activities, using the fraudulently obtained access to a U.S. bank account. Customers could also convert various cryptocurrencies and traditional currencies to dollars on their FTX account, and withdraw the dollars from FTX. FTX sent customer withdrawals by wire transfer from the North Dimension bank account, and by at least summer 2021 charged a fee for dollar withdrawals.

SALAME and Others Made Unlawful Political Contributions to Acquire Political Influence

13. Beginning in or around 2020, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," began donating large sums of funds to political candidates, at least in part to improve his personal standing in Washington, D.C., increase FTX's profile, and curry favor with candidates that could help pass legislation favorable to FTX or Bankman-Fried's personal agenda, including legislation concerning regulatory oversight over FTX and its industry. To accomplish these goals, Bankman-

Fried caused substantial contributions to be made in support of candidates of both major political parties and across the political spectrum. Bankman-Fried, however, did not want to be known as a left-leaning partisan, or to have his name publicly attached to Republican candidates. In order to obscure his association with certain contributions, Bankman-Fried conspired with others, including RYAN SALAME, the defendant, to make those contributions in the names of SALAME and Nishad Singh, another FTX executive. As SALAME explained in a private message to a confidant, the purpose of these bipartisan donations would be "to weed out anti crypto dems for pro crypto dems and anti crypto repubs for pro crypto repubs," and that donations would likely be routed through SALAME "to weed out that republican side."

- 14. Between in or about the fall of 2021 and the November 2022 election, RYAN SALAME, the defendant, Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," and Nishad Singh collectively made millions of dollars in contributions, including in "hard money" contributions to federal candidates from both major political parties. The money used to make these political donations originated from Alameda bank accounts, and included funds that had been deposited by FTX customers. Notwithstanding his awareness of the campaign finance laws, in order to conceal the true source of the funds, SALAME agreed with others that funds for contributions would be transferred from Alameda's bank accounts, which also contained FTX customer funds, to bank accounts in the name of the political donors, and then quickly transferred from those individuals' bank accounts to political campaigns.
- 15. To further conceal the scheme, RYAN SALAME, the defendant, and his coconspirators recorded the outgoing wire transfers from Alameda to individuals' bank accounts for purposes of making contributions as Alameda "loans" or "expenses." But unlike other loans that were made to FTX executives, including to Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," Nishad Singh, and SALAME, most of these outgoing wire payments were not documented in agreements or on term sheets, and there were no set interest rates, no interest payments, no collateral, and no evidence of repayment.

16. In total, RYAN SALAME, the defendant, and his co-conspirators made over 300 political contributions, totaling tens of millions of dollars, that were unlawful because they were made in the name of a straw donor or paid for with corporate funds. In dozens of instances, use of straw donors allowed Samuel Bankman-Fried, a/k/a "SBF," to evade contribution limits on individual donations to candidates to whom Bankman-Fried had already donated. As a result of this fraudulent conduct, SALAME and his co-conspirators caused false information to be reported by campaigns and PACs to the Federal Election Commission ("FEC"), which had the result of impairing and impeding the FEC's reporting and enforcement functions.
